

Monica and The Explosion - Acoustic Punk Rock 'n' Roll

Monica and The Explosion is Monica Welander, an acoustic punk rock artist from Sweden.

She has been touring all around the world, as a solo artist or with a band, and she has aroused great interest and respect for her dynamic live performances and her songs. The sound is best described as "jukebox punk" - acoustic rock 'n'roll with attitude.

Her debut album was released in 2007, since then she has released another three albums all recorded in the UK with well established British punk rock musicians.

Reviews:

Richard Wagenaar, The Next Gig Oct 2016

- Less Frenetic album review:

"This fourth studio album by the Swedish is a charming piece with great songs..."

Mark Chadderton in Vive le Rock, 2013 - Keep it Alive album review.

"Swedish singer-songwriter's third album is an acoustic delight."

Big Cheese Magazine, Sep 2010

"Monica Welander has some serious attitude but is cool as hell too. Armed with an acoustic guitar that she pounds the hell out of, this is acoustic punk at its most fiery and personal... Welander pulls off the Joan Jett, "I-don't-give-a-damn sort of sassiness without any hint of contrivance..."
